Safe Harbor / Forward-Looking Statements

• This presentation consists of these slides and the associated remarks and comments, which are related and intended to be presented and understood together.

• Certain statements in this presentation and discussion, including, but not limited to, those about Thomson Reuters outlook and prospects, are forward-looking. Forward-looking statements are those which are not historical facts and include the company’s current expectations regarding adjusted earnings per share in 2017, the impact of foreign currency on the company’s future results, growth and savings opportunities, its plans to sell the Intellectual Property & Science business and its stock buyback program.

• Our actual results in future periods may differ materially from those currently expected because of a number of risks, uncertainties and assumptions. The risks, uncertainties and assumptions that we believe are material are outlined in our disclosure filings and materials, which you can find on www.thomsonreuters.com. Please consult these documents for a more complete understanding of these risks, uncertainties and assumptions. We disclaim any intention or obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as may be required by law. Our outlook is provided for the purpose of providing information about current expectations for 2016. This information may not be appropriate for other purposes.

Non-IFRS Financial Measures

• This presentation contains disclosures of certain non-IFRS financial measures. These measures include adjusted EPS.

• Please see our 2015 annual report and earnings release dated April 27, 2016, which is available on www.thomsonreuters.com, for a reconciliation of measures to the most directly comparable IFRS financial measure. You can also find IFRS reconciliations in the “Investor Relations” section of our website.
