Exhibit Number	Description
99.1	News release dated September 5, 2018 – Thomson Reuters Announces Conditional Redemption of Approximately US$1.7 Billion of Debt Securities

NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Thomson Reuters Announces Conditional Redemption of Approximately US$1.7 Billion of Debt Securities

TORONTO, September 5, 2018 – Thomson Reuters (TSX / NYSE: TRI) today announced that it has exercised its right to redeem approximately US$1.7 billion of its outstanding debt securities, conditional upon the closing of the company's previously announced sale of a 55% interest in its Financial & Risk business to private equity funds managed by Blackstone for approximately US$17 billion. An affiliate of Canada Pension Plan Investment Board and an affiliate of GIC will invest alongside Blackstone.

The notes to be redeemed are the following:

- C$750,000,000 principal amount of 4.35% notes due September 30, 2020 (CUSIP No. 884903 BJ3);
- C$500,000,000 principal amount of 3.369% notes due May 23, 2019 (CUSIP No. 884903 BR5); and
- US$500,000,000 principal amount of 4.70% notes due October 15, 2019 (CUSIP No. 884903 BG9).

On August 28, 2018, Thomson Reuters announced that it and Blackstone had agreed to close the Financial & Risk transaction on October 1, 2018, subject to the satisfaction or waiver of customary closing conditions. Thomson Reuters plans to fund these redemptions (and the future redemption of other outstanding debt securities) using approximately US$4 billion of the proceeds from the transaction.

The redemption prices will include applicable early repayment premiums, as well as accrued and unpaid interest through the redemption date, which is currently expected to be October 5, 2018 for each series of notes.

Based on a conditional redemption date of October 5, 2018, the Canadian dollar denominated notes are expected to be redeemed at the following redemption prices per C$1,000 principal amount, which have been determined based on the Canada Yield Price, as defined in the applicable documentation governing each series of notes:

Notes	C$750,000,000 principal amount of 4.35% notes due September 30, 2020 (CUSIP No. 884903 BJ3)	C$500,000,000 principal amount of 3.369% notes due May 23, 2019 (CUSIP No. 884903 BR5)
Canada Yield Price	C$1,037.24	C$1,007.39
Accrued and unpaid interest	C$ 0.60	C$ 12.46
Total redemption price	C$1,037.84	C$1,019.85

The total redemption price for the U.S. dollar denominated notes to be redeemed will be determined at a later date, in accordance with the applicable documentation governing those notes. When available, Thomson Reuters will provide the total redemption price for those notes in the "Investors" section of its website, www.thomsonreuters.com. Thomson Reuters currently anticipates that this information will be posted on or about October 2, 2018. In addition, if the redemption date will be after October 5, 2018, Thomson Reuters plans to post updated redemption price information on its website for the Canadian dollar denominated notes.

Non-registered holders (banks, brokerage firms or other financial institutions) of Canadian dollar denominated notes that maintain their interests through CDS Clearing and Depository Services Inc. (CDS) should contact their CDS customer service representative with any questions about the redemption. Alternatively, beneficial holders with any questions about the redemptions should contact their respective brokerage firm or financial institution which holds interests in the notes on their behalf.

This news release is for informational purposes only and does not constitute a notice of redemption, nor an offer to tender for, or purchase, any notes or any other securities of Thomson Reuters. There can be no assurances that the Financial & Risk transaction will close or that any redemption will occur.
